ÇaSoufi !

Open Air Performance

directed by Andrea Benaglio

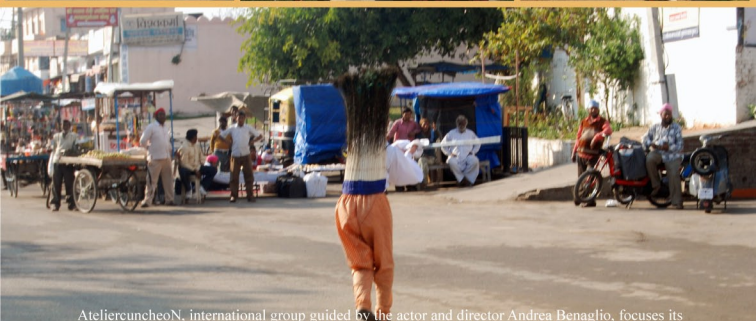

“ÇaSoufi !” is the theatre performance for open spaces created by AteliercuncheoN, theatre group from Italy, in collaboration with the traditional musical ensemble from Kurukshetra (India) Ocean “...an excellent group of art”.

The formal and technical elements coming from European tradition of street theatre meet in this occasion musical sources and suggestions coming from the Indian tradition, with a special attention to the Sufi one, already experimented internationally by AteliercuncheoN and become the center of its artistic technical research.

The simple and universal plot of the performance is developed around the history of Creso, ancient king of Lydia, his revealing meetings and the evolution of his behavior. We will see how his life was changed by the conversation with Solone, his relations with the oracles and the epic war against Ciro.

The actors and the musicians, using their impressive techniques such as masks, stilts, pneumatics stilts, singing, percussions and traditional instruments played live, will guide the public into an evocative journey touching the concept of destiny and questioning about the existence of the true happiness.

Andrea Benaglio

AteliercuncheoN, international group guided by the actor and director Andrea Benaglio, focuses its attention on the development of an original theatre practice based on the deep exploration of various multicultural and multidisciplinary elements. This direction of work takes energy from the certainty that the research theatre method is a valuable respectful instrument to meet different cultures and traditions, sacred and pagan. Step by step, meeting particular traditional artistic techniques, AteliercuncheoN is discovering different universal ways of expression, opening the variety of artistic instruments for the actor's creation.
